

2013 MEDIA Award Winner Tamara Crawley

Tamara Crawley is this year's recipient of the Delta Kappa gamma Society International's Omicron State Media Award.

Tamara is Director of Public Relations for the Marana Unified School District. She has created a comprehensive communication program that includes a newly designed District website, District messaging, multi-media presentation, and printed materials.

She serves a liaison between the District and the media, supervising the production and distribution of news releases regarding school and district events. She does an excellent job of promoting educational events to the local newspaper and television stations, exemplifying the highest level of professional commitment and competency.

Tamara is sitting next to Gloria Day, Chairman of Communications and Publicity for Delta Kappa Gamma Society International's Omicron State.
